NAHU: Political and Policy Update

Cleveland (September 19, 2016) – The Northeast Ohio Health Underwriters Association (NEOHUA) will present our 2 Hr CE (Approved) program "NAHU: Political and Policy Update" Wednesday, September 13, 2016 Brecksville Community Center, One Community Drive * Brecksville, Ohio 44141
Presented by: Janet Trautwein-NAHU Chief Executive Officer
2 CE Applied for 9:00 - 11:00 am

During this course, participants will learn about the 2016 elections, updates on recent health insurance policy issues, current political landscapes in Washington, and NAHU's advocacy and engagement. This course will help students understand major issues impacting healthcare and health insurance policy during the current year and what to expect in the upcoming elections as well as the potential impacts on policy as a result of those elections.

Learning Objectives: Upon completion of the course, the participant will know

- Major recent changes in the implementation of health reform
- Current political landscapes that affect the implementation of health reform and related changes
- The association's role in affecting change in health reform implementation at both the legislative and regulatory levels.
- The impact of the 2016 elections on health reform, including major policy proposals by the leading candidates
- Other policy proposals being considered at both the federal and state levels under the existing health reform structure
- Tools and resources for becoming active and engaged in these processes.
